Probable outcome of the Programme:

The expected outcome of this programme is that this speech of the eminent person would encourage the listener to work hard to bring positive change in the society. The speaker himself is an example who step forward to bring change in the society, stood alone against social evil (communalism), dreamt for an institution of higher education for rural and deprived section of society and fulfilled it. A teacher has the responsibility to bring positive change to the society, but how?? This speech might have shown the teacher to step forward in the mission of positive change.
